We received a counter notification (below) in response to a copyright removal request that you submitted. A counter notification is a legal request for YouTube to reinstate a video that was removed due to a copyright removal request.

You have 10 US business days to reply to this counter notification. Your response must include evidence that you've taken legal action against the uploader to keep the content from being reinstated to YouTube. Usually, evidence would include a lawsuit against the uploader, which names the YouTube URL(s) at issue and seeks a court order to restrain the alleged infringement.

Evidence should be submitted by replying directly to this email. Do not send your reply to copyright@youtube.com.

After 10 US business days, if we don't get a response from you, the content at issue may be reinstated to YouTube. You can find more information about the legal action you must take and what evidence is acceptable in our Help Center.

To Whom It May Concern:

I am legal counsel and duly authorized agent for Phoenix Rising Media ("Subscriber"), the subscriber whose original copyrighted material was removed by YouTube in response to the above-referenced notice of claimed infringement. I submit this counter-notification on the Subscriber's behalf pursuant to Section 512(g)(3) of the Digital Millennium Copyright Act, 17 U.S.C. § 512(g)(3).

The material removed or to which access has been disabled is the video published by Subscriber at the following URL, https://youtu.be/hILkNlmRfW0 which is the location where the material originally appeared before it was removed or access to it was disabled. Subscriber is unaware of any other URL from which the material was removed. The removal was effected in response to a DMCA notice of claimed infringement identified by YouTube as having been issued by Ezra Cade (@ezracage).

I have a good faith belief that the material identified above was removed or disabled as a result of mistake or misidentification of the material to be removed or disabled. Subscriber is the owner of the material identified above, which was independently created by Subscriber, and Subscriber has reviewed the material and identified no content in which the complaining party holds any copyright interest. I swear, under penalty of perjury, that the foregoing statement is true and correct.

Subscriber consents to the jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Northern District of California, the judicial district in which the service provider may be found, and Subscriber will accept service of process from the person who provided the notice of claimed infringement under 17 U.S.C. § 512(c)(1)(C), or from an agent of that person.

Subscriber: Phoenix Rising Media

All notices, correspondence, and service of process relating to this counter-notification are to be directed to Subscriber's undersigned counsel at the following address, which Subscriber designates as its address of record for purposes of this counter-notification:

Pursuant to 17 U.S.C. § 512(g)(2)(B)–(C), Subscriber requests that YouTube promptly provide a copy of this counter-notification to the complaining party and restore the removed material not less than 10 nor more than 14 business days following receipt of this counter-notification, unless YouTube first receives notice that the complaining party has filed an action seeking a court order to restrain Subscriber from engaging in infringing activity relating to the material on YouTube's system or network.
