Greg Kerr Witness Statement

Chalas v. Freeman, Docket No. 24-CCB-0060

To the CCB board:

1. We have been working with the Roving House since December, 2018 and have been producing enamel pins and other products featuring their snail logo for 6 years. Our company, Alchemy Merch produces over 500,000 enamel pins each year (starting in 2016), focusing primarily on independent artists, brands and corporations. As a policy, we have a strict IP policy and refuse to produce products that are unlicensed. We work with large licensed properties such as Nickelodeon, Dragonball Z, Sonic the Hedgehog and others and value the rights of creators.

2. We have seen artists knocked off by overseas fast fashion companies and other small artists who try to benefit from the original creations of small business owners and it creates not only brand confusion, but is unlawful to use other people's intellectual property for financial gain.

3. If this artist had approached Alchemy Merch to produce this, we not only would have turned it down, but we would have notified the original creator about the attempt. It discredits hard working small business owners to help anyone create knock off merchandise.

4. We would be happy to provide any old files or proofs showing the use of the snail logo for the Roving House.

5. I swear that everything in the statement is true and correct to the best of my knowledge, under penalty of perjury.

Sincerely,

01.23.2025

Greg Kerr

Owner, Alchemy Merch
