Electronically Filed
Docket: 23-CCB-0327
Filing Date: 09/06/2024 11:21:39 PM EDT

Re: New customer message on November 2, 2022 at 9:57 am

1 message

Wendy Sloan <wendy.m.sloan@gmail.com> Wed, Nov 2, 2022 at 2:10 PM
To: Tami Enz <support@justforlittles.com>

I am glad to hear it was a mistake. Send me the license details then so I know who to go after for doing this. I don't license artwork for use on any mass manufactured items it goes against my business goals of supporting only handmade businesses.

On Wed, Nov 2, 2022 at 2:09 PM Tami Enz <support@justforlittles.com> wrote:

> Would you like to talk on the phone?
>
> I bought the license YEARS ago. I love supporting artists. I buy licenses off Facebook, Etsy, websites like creative market, and directly from the artist. Have my own specialty fabric printed and made into garments. I've never not purchased a license. Maybe someone took your artwork, modified it and sold licenses to use it? 🤷‍♀️
>
> I haven't had this dress in years and I'm happy to either take it off my site or buy the license. Let me know how you'd like to proceed.
>
> I apologize for this. I think it's a big misunderstanding. I certainly did not intend to use your art without permission. I'm very sorry.
>
> Thanks,
> Tami Nistler-Enz
> JFL
>
> > On Nov 2, 2022, at 12:55 PM, Wendy Sloan <wendy.m.sloan@gmail.com> wrote:
> >
> > I am glad you like it, why are you using my artwork on the dresses you supposedly design yourself? I never licensed my designs to you but there is an article online where you claim to design and oversea production? I just went through the hassle of litigstion with Zulily and others and the factory in China over this design a few years ago, I really had hoped it put an end to people just taking my work for their own profit. It is illegal to do that. I should be paid for my work, especially when the only thing that distinguishes one of your twirl dresses from another is the artwork you print on it. If I wanted dresses made in China printed with my artwork I would have just opened a clothing shop and done it myself. You have no right to profit off of my artwork.

© Wendy Sloa

10:58

justforlittles.com

Christmas is coming Tuesday! Enjoy FREE shipping.

[redacted]

On Wed, Nov 2, 2022 at 1:49 PM Tami Enz <support@justforlittles.com> wrote:

This is gorgeous!!!

Thanks,
Tami Nistler-Enz
JFL

On Nov 2, 2022, at 9:57 AM, Just For Littles® <mailer@shopify.com> wrote:

You received a new message from your online store's contact form.

Country Code:
US

Name:
Wendy Sloan

Email:
wendy.m.sloan@gmail.com

Phone Number:
3217599959

Message:
Hi, I am wondering why you are using my artwork on your JFL Unicorn Twirl dresses? I don't have any records of you licensing this artwork from me. Should I forward an invoice? For your reference, this is copyright registered art. It is titled Leaping Unicorns. It is registered under the name Wendy Sloan. You cannot print my artwork on clothing for your own profit. I am also a small business person, a mom, and Just like you expect people to pay you for your work, I expect to be paid for mine. This particular design has been used so many times that I have had to hire an attorney to get it removed from shops and to get paid for those sales.

Here is a link to my website where I promote my artwork ams specifically this design which you did get permission to use.
https://www.mainsailstudiopatterns.com/samples
Wendy Sloan
Mainsail Studio

Proof of Delivery

I hereby certify that on Friday, September 06, 2024, I provided a true and correct copy of the Article H Email thread from 11 2 2022 to the following:

Just For Littles LLC*, represented by Tami Enz, served via ESERVICE at support@justforlittles.com

Signed: /s/ Wendy Sloan