Hello,

Thank you for providing the previously attached court document. It appears that the lawsuit does not mention the counter noticing party and mentions Amazon as the respondent.

Per DMCA, once a counter-notice is received by Amazon, the original claimant has 10 business days to file a lawsuit AGAINST THE COUNTER-NOTICING PARTY or Amazon must reinstate the content at issue per the DMCA. For best practices regarding DMCA notices and counter-notices, please review this document available from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office: https://www.uspto.gov/sites/default/files/documents/DMCA_Good_Bad_and_Situational_Practices_Document-FINAL.pdf

The counter-noticing party provided their address in China and then checked the box for consent to jurisdiction. As you'll note, the statement includes an OR qualifier which captures counter-noticing parties not located in the US.

"I am located in the United States and I consent to the jurisdiction of the Federal District Court for the judicial district in which my address is located (OR) I am located outside of the United States and I consent to the jurisdiction of any judicial district in which Amazon may be found."

Please provide us with court documents against the counter-noticing party and we will take appropriate action. Thank you for understanding our position on this matter.

Regards,

Copyright/Trademark Agent
