Dear Mariusz,

I received the additional invoice notification and the assessment of a late fee.

As I have previously stated, I have not completed my investigation of this matter and have not agreed to the amount claimed, the invoice terms, or the additional late fee.

You indicated in your prior correspondence that you considered this matter concluded and did not intend to engage in further discussion. At the same time, several important questions remain unanswered, including the basis for the amount claimed and the circumstances surrounding the photographs' distribution and use through APCC.

I am still awaiting responses from APCC personnel, including the President of APCC, who is currently unavailable, as well as other individuals involved in the organization's event promotion activities. Their responses remain an important part of my investigation.

As I have consistently explained, my relationship with APCC spans many years and the reposting of materials occurred within the context of promoting APCC events and activities. The photographs were removed after notification, and I have taken your concerns seriously from the outset.

At this time I cannot conclude my investigation, agree to the invoice amount, agree to the late fee, or make any payment determination until the necessary information has been obtained and reviewed.

I remain willing to discuss the matter professionally and would welcome a conversation involving the relevant parties if that would help clarify the facts and potentially resolve the matter.

Until my investigation is complete, I respectfully request that no assumptions be made regarding my position, as I have neither accepted liability nor agreed to the amounts claimed.

Sincerely,

Best regards,
Orest Melnyk
